

Re: readline support in xmaxima

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/Debian/2004-03/2313.html>

From: Goran Christiansson (webcontact_at_goranchristiansson.com)

Date: 03/15/04

To: debian-user@lists.debian.org

Date: Mon, 15 Mar 2004 09:30:23 +0100

Hi,

> *I dont know what I am doing wrong, But I cannot use up and down arrow > keys in xmaxima to go to previous and next commands. Instead the cursor > goes to the previous/next line. CTRL-p and CTRL-n are also not working.
>
> I am using debian testing, Maxima 5.9.0. Downloaded the packages from > ftp.us.debian.org. Can someone tell me how I can get the readline support?*

I do not know if this information might help you, but I just want to tell you that that is how it also works in the Microsoft Windows version. Maybe it is not a bug but a feature...

Good day,

Goran

--

To UNSUBSCRIBE, email to debian-user-request@lists.debian.org with a subject of "unsubscribe". Trouble? Contact listmaster@lists.debian.org