

Re: Ripping DVDs to HDD

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/Debian/2005-03/0083.html>

From: Andrey Andreev (andreev_at_cs.helsinki.fi)

Date: 03/01/05

Date: Tue, 01 Mar 2005 16:37:25 +0200
To: Rhys Hardwick <rhys@rhyshardwick.co.uk>

Rhys Hardwick wrote:

- > I am looking to back up my DVDs to hard disk, and was wondering what
- > software was available to do that with Debian Sarge.
- >
- > I have been recommended Vobcopy. Is there another peice of software
- > better for this, and some piece of software for converting to ogm, mpeg,
- > Divx etc.

I just tried dvd::rip (dvdrip) (a frontend to transcode and whatnot) – it handled the whole process (from ripping to splitting the avi) and was very easy to start using.

Andro

--

Andrey Andreev
University of Helsinki
Dept. of Computer Science

--

To UNSUBSCRIBE, email to debian-user-REQUEST@lists.debian.org with a subject of "unsubscribe". Trouble? Contact listmaster@lists.debian.org