thank you for your answer! My sources.list file has the Marillat
repository:

deb <http://www.debian-multimedia.org/> sarge main

Now the output from aptitude:

Did you run aptitude update before this?

I run update periodically. However, I ran aptitude update again now, and I got the same result as before: Couldn't find any package whose name or description matched "gststreamer0.8-lame"...

are you running sarge?

No, I m running Sid. And indeed, there seems no such package for Sarge on d-m.o, sorry about that. The packages are here[0], maybe they still work for you.
