I've been using Mail.app on MacOSX to get the mail in my linux box. Trying to do something different I connected to it using X11 and launched KDE. With Evolution I can see three mail boxes in my account: Inbox, Junk, and Trash. I can create a Sent folder inside the INBOX folder, but not outside like Junk and Trash.

localhost.localdomain> lm
user.myname (\HasChildren)

```
localhost.localdomain> lam user.myname
myname lrswipeda
```

and now imapd.conf

configdirectory: /var/lib/imap
partition-default: /var/spool/imap admins: cyrus
sievedir: /var/lib/imap/sieve
sendmail: /usr/sbin/sendmail
hashimapspool: true
sasl_pwcheck_method: auxprop
sasl_mech_list: CRAM-MD5 DIGEST-MD5
```

Fedora: Re: cyrus-imapd

tls_cert_file: /etc/pki/cyrus-imapd/cyrus-imapd.pem
tls_key_file: /etc/pki/cyrus-imapd/cyrus-imapd.pem
tls_ca_file: /etc/pki/tls/certs/ca-bundle.crt

#Added by me

```
sasl_auxprop_plugin: sasldb
```

```
allowplaintext: no
```

```
quotawarn: 90
```

```
createonpost: yes
```

```
autocreatequota: 1000000
```

autocreateinboxfolders: Inbox | Sent | Drafts | Trash <<<<< This I saw in a forum, I don't know if the syntax is correct. The man pages specified that the previous two options should also be added with this one.
```

Please bear with me. Two days ago I didn't know anything about cyrus-imapd.

Thanks

EJ
