since (as i understand it) i need to rebuild pine from the source to add support for SMTP authentication, i grabbed the source rpm:
pine-4.64-1.rf.src.rpm
from dag.wieers.com and just did the basic "rpmmbuild --rebuild" as a quick test to see if it would build out of the box, but what i got

Not a direct answer, but you can also get a pine rpm/srpm from rpm.livna.org.
