hallo Group Members.

I noticed some strange behavior of my fc6. Some popular programs do not work well. A week ago I had problem with sane. Then I updated packages with yum. Then I noticed that oowriter crashes when trying to save a file. I updated again (4 days ago). Then noticed that firefox is not working correctly: it crashes after a few minutes of working.

Is it possible that the problem is with my repositories? I use ONLY fedora stable repository and livna. Both of them are enabled during update. Do YOur experience any problems with such a mix?

regards!
Pawel
