Yes. And I've only CD'd you in case your not receiving posts from the list.

If you arn't receiving posts from the list, it may be due to mail having been bounced when sending to you. Some lists disable the sending of mail if there are too many bounces. If that is the case, go to your options for the email address that you are subscribed to the list for, and checkout the first on the list of options.

btw. Where have you been? We havn't seen you for a few days.

Nigel.
