I installed the google toolbar in firefox 2 days ago, but when I tried to install it on another machine today
I got the message:
"Google Toolbar for Firefox 3.1.20080605L could not be installed because it is not compatible with Firefox 3.0b5."
I assume from this that the toolbar was updated very recently.

Is there a version of the toolbar that is compatible with the current version of Firefox in standard Fedora?
