can the next version of the window list panel applet (according to the about box, i currently have 2.12.3 installed) have an option to disable sorting of the window titles?

having them sorted is particularly annoying when, e.g., you have firefox open with 20 or so windows, and every time you open a new ffox window or click on a link so that the title changes, it shuffles the window list around so you have to actually search for the window you're looking for when you click on the "Firefox (20)" item in the panel.

if they were unsorted, i.e. if they stayed in order of window creation, then i could just remember that e.g. my slashdot ff window was third from the top, ebay 5th from the top, etc etc.
