Hi gnomers,

it seems like a very basic question, but I can't figure out how to save a video played by totem (2.18.2, Debian).

I get the video via a bluetooth transfer (performed via gnome-obex-server from the gnome-bluetooth package), after the download the file is automatically opened and played by totem.

At this point I have no clue about how to save it. Movie and Edit menu don't provide a "Save" option, when Ctrl-S asks to save a screenshot, C-w just doesn't work. So what very basic thing am I missing?

Many thanks in advance.
