Jesper Juhl napsal(a):

Since I'm in X when the lockup happens and I don't have enough time from clicking the eclipse icon to the box locks up to make a switch to a text console I don't know if an Oops or similar is dumped to the console (there's nothing in the locks after a reboot) :-(

So why don't just run eclipse from console (DISPLAY=... eclipse), or use atd, crond... (less common variants)?

Good idea, thanks. Dunno why I didn't think of that.
