

Re: recovering deleted directories/files...

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/RedHat/2003-11/0515.html>

From: Volker Kroll (kroll_at_webgods.de)

Date: 11/06/03

To: redhat-list@redhat.com

Date: 06 Nov 2003 16:37:41 +0100

On Thu, 2003-11-06 at 16:01, bruce wrote:

> i need to know is there a reasonable way to restore/undelete/get back the > files... or do i jump off the nearest bridge!!!

hmm, the easiest way is to restore them from your backup tape. You do have a backup, do you?

> you know... now's the time when i could really use the window's norton > undelete utils!!!

No, sorry, linux is a system for real men ;-)

But yes, there are chances to get the stuff back, but it's not so easy. Please tell us, what kind of filesystem do you use?

Regards

Volker (who made yesterday a `rm -rf /usr/local/apache2` on the livesystem not on his developmentssystem)

--

redhat-list mailing list

unsubscribe <mailto:redhat-list-request@redhat.com?subject=unsubscribe>

<https://www.redhat.com/mailman/listinfo/redhat-list>