I tried it on a RHAS 4 machine running Mozilla 1.7.13, not FireFox. It worked for me.

OK this is weird.

For some reason I can NOT take a screen shot of the following website:

<http://docbook.xml.googlepages.com/test> in Firefox 1.5

from a machine running redhat linux 4.0 enterprise edition.

I take screenshot of 10s of sites everyday, but this particular site just doesn't want to be screen captured.

Can anyone please try and let me know if it is just my computer, or something with the default screen capture utility with RH. I use ALT-Printscreenkey to capture the screen shots. When I press ALT-Printscreen key I get a hour glass for eternity when this site is open in Firefox....

Thanks in advance
