Hello list,

I have been trying to compile the new version of sodipodi with no success. I do not know much about programming so I thought that I can ask here since there are people who know more than me :)

Here is the errors that I get when trying to compile the program.

    from window.c:12:

This is the snippit of the make messages. It seems by the error messages that the development files that SuSE shipped with is at fault. But I'm thinking that it might be something in the source files that is causing it to do this. Does anyone have a clue??? I appreciate any help with this.

Thanks!
