Yahoo! randomly disconnects me even though I use it for some email and what not. It just does this. You should set a new passwd and wait a bit for it to take effect. Also, make sure you remove the old passwd out of GAIM and have it prompt you for a passwd to make sure everything is correct. It's pretty sad when my old as dirt MSN account is more stable than Yahoo!. ;)

Why do we bother with a suicide watch when someone is on death row? " Keep an eye on this guy. We're gonna kill him, and we don't want him to hurt himself."
