Dear my friends....

I opened some application such as konqueror browsers. but if I minimize the window of the applications its minimization result doesn't go to the panel (on the bottom of my display).

If I click on minimizing button of a window, it just goes disappeared. I can not see a small icon on the panel (on the bottom of my display) so I can choose to reopen one of the application I will.

Previously if click on the minimizing button of a window, it just changes to be a small icon on the bottom of my display.

Since today I can only reopen the window of opened application with "alt-tab" but not just click the small icon on the bottom of my KDE display.

I want my previous KDE back. How can I repair my KDE?

I want, I can minimize the window of opened applications and reopen it as I click the small Icon on the panel.

Thank you very much.
