I finally found where the www.suse.de was planted and substituted my own ISP. I am still getting a DNS failure when attempting to dial my external modem—whether using kppp, kinternet or wvdial. The result with all is a modem that indicates it is connected while refusing any access to the internet—kmail, firefox, mozilla, netscape, konqueror, realplayer all tell me they cannot find the server.

I could really use some guidance on this one.
