

Re: [SLE] sis900 support in SuSE 9.1 is broken!

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/SuSE/2004-08/2314.html>

From: Marcos Vinicius Lazarini (lazarini_at_nics.unicamp.br)

Date: 08/18/04

Date: Wed, 18 Aug 2004 17:56:59 -0300 (BRT)

To: suse-linux-e@suse.com

On Tue, 17 Aug 2004, peter Nikolic wrote:

> On Tuesday 17 Aug 2004 17:25, Marcos Lazarini wrote:

> > peter Nikolic wrote:

> > > On Tuesday 17 Aug 2004 04:40, Marcos Vinicius Lazarini wrote:

> > > > Hi,

> > > >

> > > > I was trying to install SuSE Linux Pro 9.1 using the ftp-version into an > > > > old Celeron Machine, with a sis900 Ethernet NIC. After running into a > > > > lot* of trouble to make the sis900 Network Card work (logs were* > > > > complaining about ISA Bridge), I discovered that it's support is broken > > > > in kernels from 2.6.3 to 2.6.5 (perhaps 2.6.6 also) here:

> > > > <http://teg.homeunix.org/sis900.html>

> > > > (Just to mention, last updated kernel from SuSE 9.1 uses 2.6.5)

> > > > I could not find any reference thee this problem in the list's archives.

> > > >

> > > > In that page there is a patch to the kernel-source, but I was looking > > > > for a more easily maintained version – so I don't have to recompile the > > > > kernel myself to fix the security holes.

> > > >

> > > > My question: is it possible to restore sis900 support (using the simple > > > > patch in the page above) in the next update of the kernel image?

> > > > Who can I mail to ask this change to be made in the next versions?

> > > >

> > > >

> > > > Regards,

> > > > Marcos Lazarini

> > > > NICS Admin @ Unicamp – Brazil

> > > >

> > > Hi ..

>