When trying to let Kmail to get the email I still get:
Could not login to pop.gmail.com. The password may be wrong.
The server said: "[AUTH] Username and password not accepted."
Go figure.

I get that sometimes even with my DSL connection, especially when I have a lot of network traffic (downloading stuff)...
I was doing an azureus 3 Gb download last night, and I couldn't log into ANY email accounts.
