I realize the Invoicing features in gnucash suck, but I need to use it or go back to windows which I do not want to do. I have two questions maybe someone can answer.

I have some invoices already done and posted. Is there any way I can copy these invoices and change the invoicing date and due date and repost as a new invoice? I have a number of invoices that are the same each month and it is a PITA to redo each invoice every month just for a date change. Takes about 4 times longer than Quicken Small Business in Windows. (I average about 11 or 12 invoices a month)

Is there any way to add charge type categories to the pull down selections? I need to add some horses names. Adding as a job does not work as some customers have more than one horse and that would require two invoices which is ridiculous.
