

Re: [opensuse] Dolphin

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/SuSE/2007-03/msg03249.html>

- From: Patrick Shanahan <ptilopteri@xxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 29 Mar 2007 23:08:13 -0400
-

* Kai Ponte <kai@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> [03-29-07 22:36]:
[...]

I tried to ftp the screenshot from dolphin and realized (a) I couldn't open another tab and (b) I couldn't ftp. :P

Also, I'm still on the prowl for a twin pane file manger that works like Explorer. I really like the functionality of explorer in terms of the ability to have folders on one pane and files/folders on the other, with the left pane truly following the right pane. Konqueror almost does it but not quite.

Of course the other benefits of konq far outweigh that one trivial detraction.

konq twin pannel is good but I perfer krusader and mc. mc is really the best and will do everything, including wash the kitchen sink. It is the emacs of file browsers.

Patrick Shanahan Registered Linux User #207535
<http://wahoo.no-ip.org> @ <http://counter.li.org>
HOG # US1244711 Photo Album: <http://wahoo.no-ip.org/gallery2>
OpenSUSE Linux <http://en.opensuse.org/>

To unsubscribe, e-mail: opensuse+unsubscribe@xxxxxxxx
For additional commands, e-mail: opensuse+help@xxxxxxxx