

Re: [opensuse] Unable to Install OpenSUSE10.2

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/SuSE/2007-07/msg00922.html>

- From: "arun murali" <arunmur@xxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 18 Jul 2007 14:03:49 +0530
-

Hi,

Thats the first thing i did. The Yast keeps crashing before it starts. May be i have to try No arch version.

With Regards,
Arun Murali

On 7/18/07, D;N= !5@358GL <maiden.tech@xxxxxxxx> wrote:

sory maybe dummiest advice but – try download .iso & do simple install :)

On 7/18/07, arun murali <arunmur@xxxxxxxx> wrote:

- > Hi all,
- > Yesterday and the day before i was trying to install getting them
- > from the internet. The update is that when run from the internet the
- > yeast loaded and the installation initiation screen showed up but
- > after the first screen it crashed again. My guess is that the
- > particular hardware combination of my system is the reason. Though i
- > think there could be many systems that use this hardware.
- >
- > Update on WLAN, I wanted to directly run the online installation
- > through WLAN. But it does not load the WLAN card on my system so i had
- > to bring the actual modem and hook it up using Ethernet cable. The
- > card uses Prism RT61 chipset(DLink) but the RT61 driver loaded did not
- > work. When i give the SSID it says cannot find the AP and complete
- > DHCP procedure.
- > --
- > To unsubscribe, e-mail: opensuse+unsubscribe@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx
- > For additional commands, e-mail: opensuse+help@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx
- >
- >

--
! C2. 8:>;09!
/* icq:167759593; cel:80976048945; cel2:80683577756*/

N€Va$ rf!y <Z>z{.}`]:!'9 m)z{.}` +Z+i2bd*`jW(fVv3Uj)hT h3l iRHVa Rf