Thanks for the reply. dmesg told me nothing. Thought things would be better supported than worse? Ive got another couple of years support on Hardy so i will go back to that thanks.

Get the latest snapshot. Seems to have support for your webcam.

Have you tried the webcam in Cheese ?
If you don't have it - sudo apt-get install cheese
Try it in cheese first.

Hi , have just installed 64bit 8.10RC and having problem with Philips SPC 900NC webcam not working and Scanner not working. When i start xsane the webcam light comes on, and the xsane window says "Philips SPC900NC" instead of "Lide 20" for my scanner. It seems like the webcam and scanner programs have got mixed somehow? The webcam and Scanner both work perfectly in Hardy. Wonder if anyone can enlighten me please?
Thanks Jeff
