

problems with software package during ftp installation

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/alt.os.linux.suse/2004-04/0675.html>

---

From: Markus Meyer (markus.meyer_at_chello.at)

Date: 04/04/04

Date: Sun, 04 Apr 2004 10:56:41 GMT

After a lot of trying out I finally managed to get the ftp installation to work but there seems to be a software problem. I cannot load a software package therefore the installation can't go on further.

And another newbie question. Are there any risks when installing Linux parallel to Windows XP? I would like to use both and have Linux on my C: drive and Windows on my D: drive. When installing, Linux makes new partitions or something. Now I am wondering if I would loose any Windows programs or whatever is on D:.
Hope someone can help me!