You just couldn't resist it could you? You clearly do not have anything better to do with your time because the previous poster said "so how about we stop this thread here. please try to resist the temptation of replying to it" and you went and fucking replied. It shows how fucking stupid and dumb some people are. JUST LEAVE IT. The previous poster actually asked a serious question and raised some valid points. If you have to make stupid posts, why not e-mail them to the poster instead. So that the rest of us don't need to see what a cunt you really are.

Get off the internet and go to school you fucking idiot. Is your sister also your mother? (You don't need to answer that question, I have already seen your face and webbed toes)
