I run winXP home and SUSE 9.1 Pro on same hard drive duel boot on mbr not floppy never had the problem you are talking about. If you are using xp pro it's a different story. All i say is this should of done your home work fool

But for a typical windows user goes wadding in, with i can use a computer i know what i am doing i don't have to read the books, gets burnt then starts crying it's shit just to cover up their incompetence
