

Re: ssh problem

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/alt.os.linux.suse/2004-06/4337.html>

From: Juhan Leemet (juhan_at_logicognosis.com)

Date: 06/24/04

Date: Thu, 24 Jun 2004 19:49:10 -0200

On Thu, 24 Jun 2004 20:34:14 +0200, roland wrote:

> What happens if you try to ping your host?

> R.

That might not help. The ping is sometimes blocked by routers and/or firewalls. He might have to talk to the comms group at his school. They may have opened up a port to/from that other site that works. He may have to get them to open up a port for him. They may not want to. Is this a common thing for students/staff to do at that school?

> sree wrote:

>

>> Hi,

>> i am running suse 9.1 on my machine. i am trying to ssh to my machine

>> from school using ssh secure shell got it from www.ssh.com

>> it is not able to connect to my host (says host unreachable).but if i

>> ssh to some other place and then ssh to my host i am able to connect.i >> don't understand why i am not able to connect to my host directly. i >> read somewhere here to delete kown_hosts from .ssh . i did that, but

>> no luck.am i missing some thing.please help me

>> thank you

>> sreeram koneru

--

Juhan Leemet
Logicognosis, Inc.