I set up my system as a single machine with multiple users without a remote network (supposing the internet does not count as such in this respect).

What difference does it make whether I boot to runlevel 2 (which apparently was pre-set for this configuration) or 5?

By the way, the installation (from the CD out of the box on a empty partition – no up date of an existing o.s.) crashed three times for various reasons.

(P4 2.8mhz, Asus mainboard, 512 ram)
