Now, if you'll tell me how to strip unicode support from slrn, I'll be grateful. I don't speak any other languages and see no point in wasting disk space and RAM and CPU time in order to display characters from those languages.

Are you still running your masterpiece desktop "ODE"? Wasn't that designed specifically to save RAM and CPU? How's that project coming along? When can we expect to see a version 1.0 release?

Huh, Alan Connor / Tom Newton / Sidney Lambe ? When?

Sid

Your name is Alan Connor, doofus. See sig block below for more info about yourself.
