

Language problem at connexion

Source: <http://linux.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/linux.redhat/2005-06/0339.html>

From: AJ (ajejan_at_pas_de_spam_videotron.ca)

Date: 06/29/05

Date: Wed, 29 Jun 2005 12:07:24 -0400

Hello guys,

During the install, I choose the French language and keyboard. But the system took the French (from France) and not the French from Canada. Keyboard are really different (the first is AZERTY and the second in Canada is QWERTY).

I have been able to change the keyboard in my GNOME session once connected but the connection screen (where I enter my name and password) are still using the french from France keyboard. Any idea how to change that?

Also, I realized that the only language available in the Lanuage configuration panel in GNOME is French (from France). What is the way to add another one (french from Canada) or to change the language? Should I run the installer again?

Thanks a lot for your help,

AJ